

STRATA SAFETY

Hi....Strataman here,

There are obligations under the WH&S legislation that can help you to achieve a healthy, safe and well maintained scheme. It is a fact that all buildings will experience some deterioration over time. By obtaining and following the recommendations that are found in the WH&S report you can ensure that the common property at your scheme is free of hazards, or remedy any minor problems before they escalate into a major problem that will be expensive to rectify.

The risks involved in ignoring these recommendations can have wide and costly ramifications.
