

SMOKE FREE LIVING

Hi....Strataman here,

Laws restricting smoking in public areas have been widely accepted in NSW for quite some time. Surveys have shown that 93% of Australians want to live in smoke free homes. Residents of apartments are susceptible to second hand smoke and some strata schemes have already implemented smoke free by laws. This is part of a growing trend of Australians choosing to make their homes smoke free. There are options available to address smoke penetration from simply discussing your concerns with your friendly neighbour, to the scheme adopting a smoke-free by law.
